

Pittwater Animal Hospital

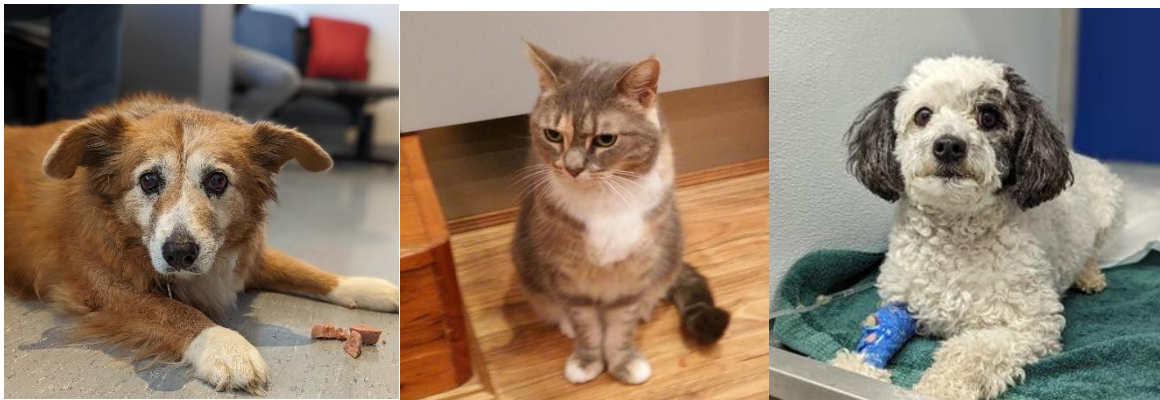

Seniors Month 2026

Did you know your pet is part of our Pittwater Seniors family?

Each May & June, we invite our older pets in for a comprehensive health check at a special price—because ageing well shouldn't be left to chance.

Many of the most important changes we find each year are subtle—often things even the most attentive owners wouldn't notice at home. The good news? When we pick them up early, we can usually manage them simply and keep your pet feeling like themselves for longer.

Our goal is simple: more good years, more beach walks, more couch time together.

What's included in the Senior Health Check?

- A thorough physical examination with a written report and personalised plan
- Comprehensive blood testing (including organ function, thyroid, diabetes screening and more)
- Urine analysis to detect early kidney, bladder or metabolic changes
- Review of parasite control, vaccinations and overall care
- Weight, mobility and arthritis assessment

Optional included add-ons available on the day may include.

- Skin and ear cytology if needed
- Fine needle sampling of lumps (in-house where appropriate)
- Anal gland expression (dogs)
- Blood pressure check (recommended for many senior cats)

Why we recommend a Senior's Health Check?

As pets age, things change quietly. A slight increase in drinking, a tiny lump, a subtle shift in weight or behaviour—these can be easy to miss, but important to understand.

Each year during Seniors Month, we uncover meaningful changes that allow us to act early—often before your pet is showing clear signs of illness.

That early insight can mean:

- simpler treatments
- better quality of life
- fewer surprises later on

A more relaxed, thorough visit

These are extended consultations, giving us time to talk through:

- behaviour and ageing changes
- diet and weight
- mobility and comfort
- how to keep your pet happy and thriving as they age

We encourage you to bring a list of questions—this is your time.

Dental Health – a common hidden issue

Worried about your pet's dental health? You're not alone—dental disease is one of the most common conditions we see in senior pets, and it often goes unnoticed until it's quite advanced.

As part of the check, we'll assess your pet's teeth and gums.

If dental treatment is recommended, this can be completed at our dental program discounted rate, helping you take the next step with added savings.
